DETAILED ACTION

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to because of the informalities indicated on the attached "Notice of Draftsperson's Patent Drawing Review," PTO-948. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Specification

The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because the abstract should consist of a single paragraph. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 fails to state the structural nature of the spacer since the spacer appears to perform an electrical interconnecting function. It is not clear if the spacer is non conductive and holds the two contacts in abutting relationship or if the spacer is an intermediate electrical type support for the contacts. Claims 2-5 are indefinite for the same reasons as claim 1.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Watkins et al

Note the Watkins et al depression switch provided on a substrate 14,214 comprising:

a key top 100 which is provided in a case 30,31 fixed on the substrate 14 so as to be movable in a vertical direction (note fig. 6), an elastically deformable movable contact piece 80,84 which is abutted against said keytop (note fig. 6) moved downward and has a substantially upside down concave-shaped cross-sectional configuration 84;

one fixed electrode 20 which is provided below an end portion of said movable contact piece 82 on said substrate 14; other fixed electrode 22 which is provided at a position of being capable of contacting the central portion 84 of said elastically deformed movable contact piece 80 on said substrate 14; and a spacer 40,42 for electrically connecting the end portion 82 of said movable contact piece 80 to said one fixed electrode 20.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Watkins et al. considered with Keough et al. Watkins et al disclose all the structure with the exception of the depression switch having a movable contact piece formed in a substantially circular dome shape and the said one fixed electrode and said spacer are formed in a substantially annular body. This structural arrangement of parts is notoriously old in the membrane and pushbutton switch arts noting the Keough et al structure. Note the circular dome shaped contact 40 and the integral stepped spacer portion of the substrate at 22.2,22.3,28,24 forming an elevated conductive step 28 for placement of the circular dome contact 40. Note the phantom outline of the contact 40 in fig. 7.

Therefore it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to modify the Watkins et al spacer and movable contact at 42.40.86,88,82,84,80 to consist of a circular dome shape contact 40 and integral spacer and fixed electrode assembly in the manner as suggested by Keough et al in order to simplify construction and thereby provide a more compact switch assembly.

Cited References

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Nagano et al and Yamamoto et al disclose plural switch arrangements within a single housing with the switches being actuated selectively in a depressible or rotatable state of the actuating mechanism.

Summary

Claims 1-5 are rejected; however, claims 3-5 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, 2nd paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
